

To Whom It May Concern

Herita MacDonald worked with me at TU ink for a number of years, producing well-thought and superbly-executed answers to a wide variety of our clients' design briefs. She has a wide experience of magazines, newsletters, leaflets, promotional items – Herita can ably turn her hand to any graphic design discipline with ease.

She works exceptionally well, both when left to work alone, or when collaborating as part of a local, or cloud-based, team of designers.

Her graphic design skills remit is wide, encompassing good, clean typography, creative image re-touching and vector drawing/illustration.

She has a 'can-do' attitude and determination for perfection every time.

I do not hesitate in recommending Herita for your next project. You might not just end up with a great piece of design work - but if you're lucky as I was, a friend for life too!

Yours sincerely
